アナーボーイ
訓練校からのシンラの同期。自ら「騎士王」を名乗り、自分なりの騎士道を征くが、自分の利き腕を忘れるほどのバカである。でもモテる。能力・炎の剣の切れ味は凄まじい。

大隊長(無能力者) 秋樽 桜備 アキタル オウビ
新設「第8」の優しき長。その目的は、他消防隊を調査し、人体発火の真相を解くこと。無能力者だが鋼の肉体を武器に、能力者以上に活躍する。筋トレが好きすぎる。

シスター(無能力者) アイリス
聖陽教会のシスターで、その祈りは「焰ピト」鎮魂に欠かせない。性格はまさに天使。おっぱいが大きい。かなり、マキとのガールズトークでは意外とツッコミ役。

茉希 尾瀬 マキ オゼ
炎を操り、格闘技術にも優れた元軍人。クールだが、恋話に目がなく、頭の中が「お花乙女」な残念美人。優しいが、筋肉をネタにされるとゴリラサイクロブスモードになりキレる。

中隊長(第二世代能力者) 武久 火縄 タケヒサ ヒナワ
クールでドライな元軍人。厳しいシゴきは新人に恐れられ、ツッコミで鉄を笑わせるほど。消防官の火遊びは絶対許さない。帽子のセンスがおかしい。料理上手。

IS DEFINITE.

炎炎消防隊

During the search for traces of the preacher, files on the first mission the 8th brigade went on were found?!

Ah! How nostalgic!

Speaking of which, how did the 8th brigade come to be formed anyways?

I see. Interesting...

So this is the report of the first mission the 8th brigade went on after it was formed...

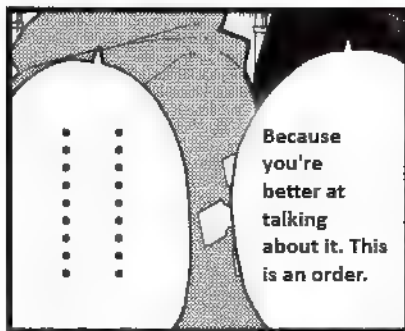

I've never heard about the things that happened before I entered this brigade.

Sergeant Hinawa!

"Flame humans" belong to the jurisdiction of the special fire officers...
We can't just simply get involved whenever we want to.

Maybe there are other things we can do besides patrolling and reporting criminals.

シンワ...本編の主人公ヒーローに無れる 第三世代能力者。燃焼すると炎がついてしまう。

Is she going to be okay?

She looks really skinny...

Lieutenant Oze's daughter, Private Maki Oze.

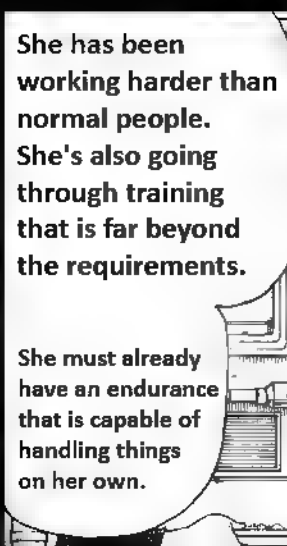

Haven't seen her before...

Could she be...?

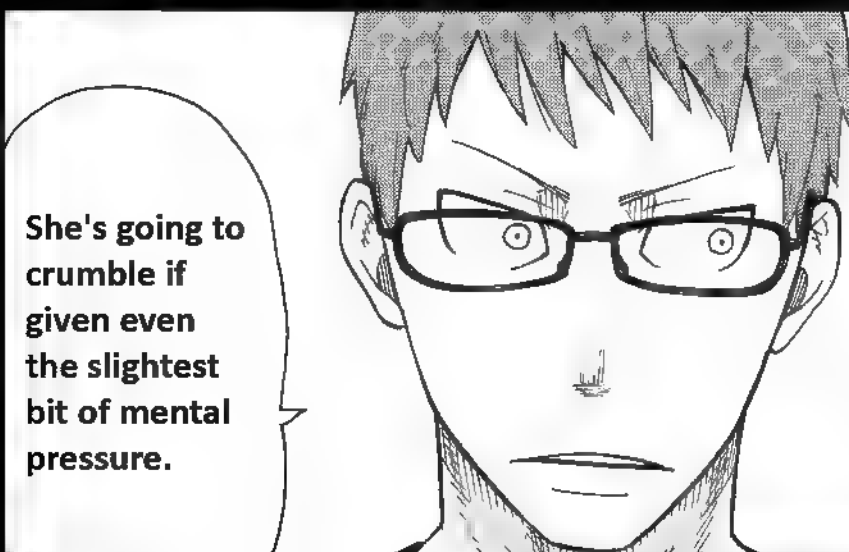

Seems like it hasn't been easy for her considering her background.

She has been working harder than normal people. She's also going through training that is far beyond the requirements.

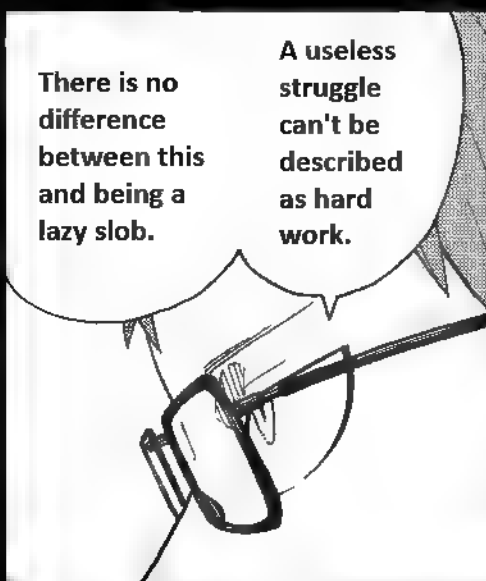

She must already have an endurance that is capable of handling things on her own.

She's going to crumble if given even the slightest bit of mental pressure.

However one might describe her, she still got to where she is today through special privileges...

She's too soft... She's not fit to be a soldier.

There is no difference between this and being a lazy slob.

A useless struggle can't be described as hard work.

If she's working hard then let her be a combat asset as well...

You're still so strict...

The hard work she has put in right now is all for naught anyways...

You're the one being too gentle, Toujou.

Seriously...
How can you say such things about a cute girl.

I copied the special fire brigade and got this gun baptized by the church.

A USP 9mm.
What about this gun?

Pointless?

Baptized or not baptized...
If you're going to get shot then it might be better to be shot with a gun that's been baptized right?

You did something pointless again.

Maybe it might even change how you think about things.

You should go to the church and get your gun baptized as well.

How about it, Hinawa?

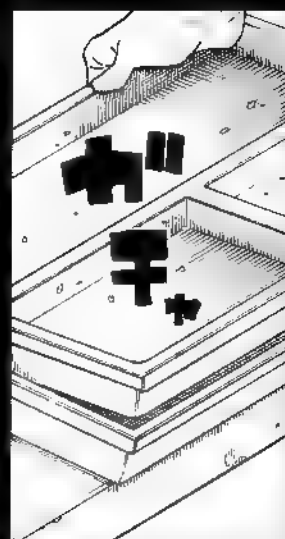

I've known you for quite some time now so I knew you were going to think that way.

You don't believe in the sun god, and you're not a believer of the Holy Sol.

There won't be a difference in shooting things even after getting the gun baptized.

Why is a gentle guy like you partnered with me?

Hinawa,
you're not as cruel and heartless as you may think you are.

For example,
you're cleaning up my tray along with yours.

I've already gone through numerous excruciating lessons on that.

Hahahaha.

You say that I'm a good person based on how I clean up the trays? You're still going to be made a fool of by a bad woman in the future.

There is no difference in cleaning up one tray or two right?
This is just logical that's all.

Formation of The 6th

Part 2

昔話風ならすし……三年前、火災はなあ……畑ビトになった友人を撃てなかったんじゃ。そして失意のままに、さ迷い歩いた先で……ただの消防士だった頃の桜備に会ったんじゃ。これから語るのは、第8隊結成その瞬間のお話じゃよ。

That's Right

We heard that there's

 Correct?

火災調査(三年前)：東京消防庁 まだ、火災で友を失い、悩んでいる。

Can't seem to that one

 ...

One of the two
 ...

While the other is rather quiet

One is very aggressive time around!

Who would want to go after the uninteresting one?

Let's leave it alone for now and go for the one with lower points.
It's an easy one anyways.

We finally have an active one
...

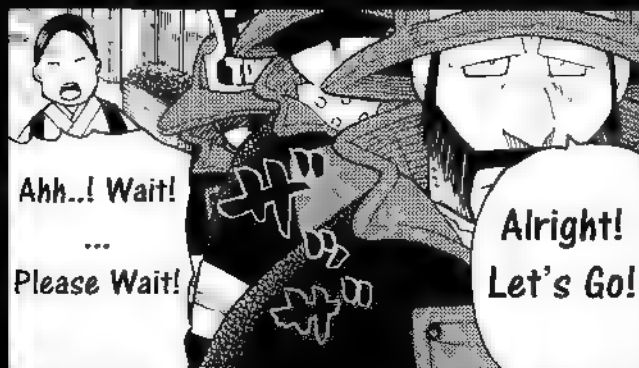

...
there are still those within that act more like soldiers.

Even though the special fire benevolent and kind hearted in about those points?

We're the here. We'll decide the best way to handle the situation.

Liar! These guys just want to make a game out of killing flame humans

...

The flame humans are split up into different levels and we get points according to those levels

...
this is to keep morale up because unlike you guys, our missions put our lives on the line

...

.....
.....
....

yeah

....

What sort of bullshit morale do you need to kill people?

So morale will be lowered if you don't?

Captain Akitaru, you shouldn't upset the blue stripes like that!

... why don't you go spray some water or whatever it is you do.

Amateurs don't get to point fingers ...

It must be so painful... I'm so sorry I can't do anything to help!

... do your best ... Just please hold on Oh Nobuo-san ...

Please ... Leave it to me

! Excuse me, you are the victim's wife are you not?

But..! You're just a normal fire officer! Isn't that dangerous?

Don't worry ... I shall take care of your husbands purification.

you?

The meeting with

Also, my brother being a cohort of The Preacher
...
the leader of the knights
...

The Joker is a dangerous man that put the lives of fire officers in danger in the newcomer's tournament ...

He could be spreading lies to spread chaos once again.

But can we really trust what the Joker is telling us?

Then

They said that my brother didn't leave behind any remains in that fire 12 years ago ...

... but even now I don't believe it

Then the

—This time it's the first meeting of two authors close in their respective ages and experiences, who both draw battle fantasy themed series, and having lots of things in common! (laughs)

Okubo Atsush-sensei (Eg. Okubo):

Indeed! Mashima-sensei is three years my senior in this industry, so I'm really looking forward to meeting with Mashima-sensei today.

Mashima Hiro-sensei (Eg. Mashima):

Actually this is not the first time we have met each other. When Okubo-sensei was still the assistant of the illustrator of GetBackers, Ayamine Rando-sensei, we've introduced ourselves to each other before. We were both around 20 at that time. How long did you take to release your own series after becoming an assistant?

Okubo
Exactly 2 years.

Mashima:

That really was fast. Sorry if this comes off as a bit brash, but I have to ask, why did you decide to release your first series at Monthly Shonen Gangan when you were an assistant at Shonen Magazine (laughs)?

Mashima:

To me, my creation process already has deep roots within my psyche, and if I were to create another series, I'll probably be needing the strength of "Fire Brigade" to fly further. (Laughs)

—For the two of you, is your motivation and muse the fantasy themed works that you have so far encountered in your life?

Mashima:

Yes that's right. This is true for my manga, and of course I really like Dragon Quest.

Okubo:

Yes. To our generation, RPGs have a lot of popularity, and also there's that stigma of "Fantasy themed stories are only drawn by young people", but in the end you can see that we're still drawing fantasy at 30 years old. (Laughs)

Mashima:

We'll probably still be doing this when we're 50 years old. (Laughs)

Okubo:

There's also the fact that the notion of "since it's manga, why not draw fantasy?" is pretty strong. For example, if Fire Brigade or Fairy Tail were to have a live action movie...

Mashima:

There might be some parts that can't be properly represented.

Okubo:

Exactly. Which is why, I want to draw a world that can only exist in manga form.

Okubo:

Releasing my first series at Monthly Shonen Gangan was because Enix (Now Square Enix. Enix is the company that owns Monthly Shonen Gangan.) is closer to home...(laughs). I brought my manuscript over to have them take a look at it, and I was very lucky, to have it start serializing. Due to this company being responsible in producing Dragon Quest, I thought that a fantasy themed series would be a good idea. Did Mashima-sensei also decide to draw a fantasy themed series?

Mashima:

No, for me it wasn't like that. Even though I wanted to draw a fantasy themed series, it was rare to see one in Monthly Shonen Magazine back then, so it was hard for me.

Okubo:

Indeed, even GetBackers was an exception back then. Rave had a more fantastical element to it, so it paved a new road for the genre.

Mashima:

After talking about it with my editor, we decided to create a fantasy themed series different than the style of Gangan or Jump, and only belonging to Magazine.

Okubo:

What were the specifics involved in that?

Mashima:

In short, I had to make the story easy to accept for Magazine readers who were not used to the fantasy genre. I was young back then, and I had the notion that "the readers will get it when they read it", which, now that I think about it, was pretty bad. It was a good thing my editor was able to severely correct my point of view back then.

Okubo:

I see. The readers who are used to this genre will be able to fill in the blanks by themselves. However, to those who are not used to reading works of that genre, if the author does not properly introduce the rules of the world within the series, then there might be some setbacks when the story is progressing to an interesting part. Actually, in Fire Brigade of Flames, even though there are some parts that are hard to figure out, it still managed to survive and be serialized. (laughs) If not for this foundation that Mashima-sensei had forged along with the group of readers Magazine has garnered, this probably wouldn't have been possible.

Mashima:

Also, in "Fire Brigade", the fact that everybody having an ability related to fire is pretty new. Normally in a series, there would be a lot of different types of abilities wouldn't it?

Okubo:

You can say that I'm a bit monomania on this part, and I thought that everybody having the same ability might be interesting. "Tamaki being taken advantage of" is also the product of my monomania. (Laughs)

—Okubo-sensei, this is the first time you've serialized on a weekly basis. How is your time arrangement for everything?

Okubo:

Volumes are being released pretty fast, which gave me surprise. However I do have time for rests. In my downtime from work I play games as well. Recently I've been playing Dark Souls 3. I've been playing for 3 or 4 weeks now.

Mashima:

Really?! Even though I really want to play that series, I really don't have the spare time. (Laughs) My staff has told me that "If you enjoy Monster Hunter, you would definitely enjoy this".

Okubo:

I've been playing Monster Hunter from the very first release, but now I haven't been collecting honey anymore, I'm taking a break from that. (Honey is used for combining items) Mashima-sensei's enjoyment of games is really famous, which game have you been playing recently?

Mashima:

I've just completed Far Cry Primal recently. I've been playing foreign games a lot lately.

Okubo:

Foreign games, not bad. I'm a great fan of those too. I really like the feeling of being able to immerse myself and play the part of the main character of a game. I also enjoy watching the awesome CG scenes.

Mashima:

I'm also a sucker for plot, so I never skip CG scenes. (Laughs)

(And after that, the two of them talked a lot about FPS and fighting games, for a really really long time) —And now I must inquire the two of you about your works. Is there a character that Okubo-sensei especially likes in Fairy Tail?

Okubo:

Brandish! She's super cute!! In Mashima-sensei's works, the girls are all so cute, I look forward to it every week.

Mashima:

Thank you. (laughs) For me, I like Tamaki, because I've never seen a female character that gets taken advantage of in that manner. However, it doesn't seem very indecent but instead is very interesting.

Okubo:

If I draw fan service scenes like a scene from a romantic comedy, then it wouldn't seem indecent, I really pay attention to this.

Mashima:

I really hope she gets a more prominent part, it would be great to let her join the 8th Special Fire Brigade. (Laughs)

Okubo:

Thank you. (Laughs)

Mashima:

Shinra does that sneaky smile when he gets nervous, this really made a lasting impression on me, because I enjoy drawing that sort of expression. But I would image it to be hard to continue this setting.

Okubo:

His smile is not a really open and without a care smile, but a smile that he can't help but make when he wants to be serious. Natsu on the other hand is a very open and very carefree main character. It's a type that I find hard to draw, so I really respect that.

Mashima:

Haru from Rave is a character that works hard and frustrates over a lot of things, so this time I wanted to move in a more easy, going direction. (Laughs)

Okubo:

I see! I wanted to challenge myself with a happy and out going character at first but I failed, you're like the opposite of me. (Laughs) Due to Fire Brigade having a heavier theme, it wouldn't be fitting to have a character that doesn't have a more serious mindset.

Mashima:

I really understand your point when reading your work. Even though character deaths in recent manga series are written to be easily glossed over, "Fire Brigade" really tries to make this particular point impactful. I think that it's a really impressive thing to be able to properly illustrate the life and death of a person.

Okubo:

This is because in the world of Soul Eater, life and death is really not a big deal. (Laughs) I probably wanted to draw something the opposite of that.

—Sensei, you are both too serious about this, this talk isn't going to be published in a gaming magazine! Please return to the topic about your work! (laughs)

Okubo:

Okay. (Laughs) Every week I would leave a day free of any work and use it to rest. What about Mashima-sensei?

Mashima:

If I want to I could do that as well. However, I would get really uncomfortable if I don't draw for even a single day.

Okubo:

You've been constantly showing your drawings on twitter.

Mashima:

If I don't do that my drawing skills would degrade.

Okubo:

Yes, for me, my working condition on the first day of work is a bit strange, can it be that I'm too lazy to deal with the manuscript? (laughs)

Mashima:

My first day of work for the week is my happiest day, and then I slowly get tired and annoyed after that. (laughs) During the phase after finishing the manuscript, I start thinking of the next chapter's Name (Names are rough storyboard drawings). (Laughs) Does Okubo-sensei start drawing page by page from page 1?

Okubo:

Yes. What about Mashima-sensei?

Mashima:

I start drawing the chapter from the page that I want to draw the most. (Laughs) However, I've had a change in my thought process recently, as to not let myself become annoyed and tired at drawing, I would sometimes leave the thing that I want to draw at the very end. Such as hentai scenes...I'm kidding. (laughs) I would leave scenes such as where Natsu is the most active for the last to draw.

Okubo:

I get you! Exciting scenes are really important after all. Manga really have to be drawn while being in a happy mindset. (laughs)

—It's about time for this to end...And finally, please talk about the scenes that the two of you want to see in the other's respective works.

Mashima:

A showcase of all the brigades of the Special Fire Brigades, and more characters. I also really anticipate the wider world view beyond the circle of the fire brigades. Also, one more important thing, so I need to repeat myself. Please let Tamaki join Shinra's 8th brigade! (laughs)

Okubo:

Look forward to it, you won't be disappointed! (laughs) For me, I want to see cute girls doing cute things in Fairy Tail. (laughs) I also pay attention to the climax parts in Fairy Tail, don't worry. I want to see more scenes of Natsu being active, no matter in combat scenes or story progression scenes. There must be more to Natsu's super impressive hidden techniques.

Mashima:

Maybe he might use it in the future. What I can say is that, Fairy Tail is a series that has been serializing for a very long time, so I must give everybody an acceptable ending to it. A Bad Ending happening is something that will never happen, that's all I have to say for it right now.

Okubo:

Wow! So happy! I will look forward to it along with the other readers!

The dream of this talk was realized, Tamaki joins the 8th Brigade in "Fire Brigade of Flames". Please look forward to her performance in the story!
